

Momma's Worried About Her Boy

Bobby's day started out the same, Momma drove him into town
There's a lot going on today that the boy don't know about.
(Momma's) got a secret to unfold up in the county court
She paid back all she could as she stands before the judge

Chorus

Momma failed at her test. Now she is hoping for the best
Praying with a weight on her chest, Momma's worried about her boy

Later on 'round the kitchen light Daddy speaks so soft and low
Something Momma's done, no it just ain't right. She'll be gone a month or so.
Daddy's mind is racing as he leaves the room, there's so much to do and say
Hadn't realized all the things she does. Hope the boy don't go astray

Chorus

Momma failed at her test. Now she is hoping for the best
Praying with a weight on her chest, Momma's worried about her boy

Final Chorus

Daddy says Momma's coming home today. Home forever, home to stay
She's atoned for what she's done and now she gets to hold her son
Momma's worried about her boy
Momma's worried about her boy
Momma's worried about her boy
Momma's worried about her boy

Written by a participant in the EFry Singing My Way Home songwriting workshops at NBCC